

IPA QLD STATE FORUM

BUILDING A CULTURE OF CARE

Our people are our greatest asset, right?

Statistically, in Australia alone, this week 3-4 people will die as a result of a workplace incident, and many more will be seriously injured. Moreover, as organisations are seeking to do more with less, increasing episodes of heightened workplace stress and mental health challenges can go unnoticed, often resulting in serious, even tragic outcomes.

Ask most people and they will genuinely say that they 'care' for their co-workers. But collectively, when the pressures of work and home build-up, this 'care factor' diminishes in lieu of reaching a deadline.

If your employees seem hesitant to speak up, ask questions, or share ideas, it might be a sign that they don't feel safe in doing so.

Maybe your culture appears to be safe on the surface, but what steps can you take to be sure?

- What are you doing about improving mental wellness?
- Are you taking steps to identify and eliminate all psychosocial hazards?
- How are you moving your workplace culture from Compliance to Care?

This forum will focus on building a culture of care and will be an ideal opportunity to rub shoulders with your peers across multiple industries and functions.
